About the Trainer

Kay Pfaff, Owner/Trainer, Cool Breeze Equine LLC

Kay Pfaff is based in Middleburg, Virginia where she teaches clients to think from the horse’s perspective to produce a horse and rider partnership. She combines her education in natural and classical horsemanship with her more than 17 years of experience as a trainer, rider, and veterinary technician to provide her clients from beginner to Olympic level with a systematic and holistic method of developing a strong foundation in their horses, and effective rider biomechanics and balance in their riding for confidence, safety, and success.
