KENNEBEC FARM PRESENTS
A weekend with
Dom Schramm Clinic
International Event Rider
Star of Evention TV

It's not often you come across people who possess both advanced riding and training skills as well as the ability to effectively share those skills with others. Although quite young, Dom Schramm has shown thousands of students across the United States and his homeland Australia that he is such a person, often combining lessons with fresh takes on timeless lessons with his unmistakable sense of humor and contagious enthusiasm.

Whether dealing with a young or difficult horse, a timid or nervous rider, or simply just helping students fine tune their skills before an upcoming competition, Dom is adaptable as he is effective at helping students and horses understand and overcome their training obstacles. He is well known for bringing along fresh exercises to clinics to help challenge his students in a way that helps build confidence and helps students not just at the clinic, but also continuing on with their training at home.

Auditors also enjoy Dom for finding the right balance between teaching his students as well as sharing his message with onlookers.
